If you play Fortnite: Battle Royale at all, you know it can be super hard to end up in the number one spot at the end of the match! But there are loads of hacks for Fortnite, and hints and tips out there for those players who are serious about Gittin Gud at Fortnite: BR!

Check out some of these crazy techniques you can use and learn how to hack Fortnite!

1. Cosmetic camouflage!

None of the costumes or other cosmetics you can buy in-game give you an advantage over other players... Yeah, right!

If you have the Love Ranger costume and you stand in the right place around Haunted Hills, it's possible that other players might mistake you for a statue and completely ignore you!

2. Build traps round your opponents!

One of the coolest Fortnite hacks you can do in the whole game is to defeat your enemies by building a trap AS you fight them! It takes a lot of practice and it's SUPER dangerous to be building while you're fighting, but if you can manage to do it then you're up there with the best of the best of the best!

3. Break your fall with an impulse bomb!

Even with all the tips and tricks we gave you here, sometimes you'll run out of building materials. It happens! But if you're out of building materials and can't use the Step technique but need to get down from a high place quickly, try chucking an Impulse Bomb down just before you land.

The force from the explosion should cushion your landing!

4. Or use your Impulse Bombs to get a teammate to safety!

It's cool to save yourself - it's COOLER to save a teammate! As shown in this clip, you can use an impulse pulse to push a downed teammate to safety.

5. Rocket riding!

If you've played Battle Royale at all then you've probably at least thought about riding a rocket! If you're in a team it's a great way to launch a teammate behind other players or to cross Loot Lake without having to go through the water.

6. Stairway to heaven!

It's a technique that's fallen out of favour - but imagine if you were the one to bring it back! The idea is that you start at the edge of the storm and build a huge ramp into the sky. Then, when the circle closes, you build with it.

When the end of the match approaches, the idea is that you're SO HIGH above the ground that NOBODY thinks to look for you. It's tricky to do, and you'll probably have to come down at some point to win, but just imagine if you were the person to bring back this technique!

7. Under cover!

Nobody wants to find themselves caught in the storm...

But if you absolutely HAVE to take someone by surprise, and you have some healing items, it's always worth remembering that you can run out of the safe zone to take advantage of other players who don't think to check outside. At the end of a match, it can be the difference between winning and losing!

8. BE the bush!

The cosmetic bush item is useful, but don't forget that you can squat down in a bush if you want to ambush some unsuspecting other players! Just be careful - top-level players can and will spot you if you're in a bush that looks too suspicious.

Build Traps around Your Opponents

One of the best Fortnite Hacks you can do is to take on your foes by setting up a trap when you are fighting. It needs a bit of practice, as it is quite tricky to build dangerous traps around the enemies while fighting. If you successfully manage to learn the techniques, then no one will be there who could stop you.

Use Impulse Bomb

During the game, sometimes, you will find yourself running out of resources and building materials. At that moment, what thing will assist you in your survival is tips and tricks. Suppose you're standing on a building and can't use building material to land, then you can use Impulse Bomb to safely land and continue to fight against enemies. You can't only use Impulse Bomb to land safely, but also to save your teammates.

Rocket Riding

If you've experienced Battle Royale mode, you perhaps image to ride a rocket. When you're in a team, means you're playing in a squad mode, then you're able to release your teammate behind other players or can use the rocket to cross the Loot Lake without going through the water.

Stair to Heaven

The excellent technique that you can imagine to come back. Consider what will happen if you start creating a ramp into the sky using a variety of building materials silently, and when the red zone approaches to end, you can quickly jump from ramp over the point where your target is locating you to kill. After killing that person you can easily be the last standing person to win. It is considering one of the best techniques to use to win the game, but using the method you can't able to improve your state, in other words, you're cheating with other players.

Undercover As the match starts, everyone is in a struggle to find a secure place where no one could find them easily. and nobody wants to find themselves to be trapped in a extreme massive storm or in between opponent team members. If you want to cover or help someone by surprise, then you can use many available healing items; it's worth and Keep in mind, and you can escape out of the safe zone to have advantage over all other players who don't think to check outside area. By doing so, the result will be different than expectations.
